REAP Frequently Asked Questions

1. Does the mobile REAP trailer attend all community events and Farmer’s Markets?

The REAP trailer attends select community events and Farmers Markets in Tehama County as products are available to redistribute. We strive to ensure REAP products are available to the public and will seek out local events as they come up. Please visit our events page at www.tehamacountylandfill.com to see our next mobile event location, date, and time.

2. I want to donate products to the program, can I bring my donations to a community event the REAP trailer is present at?

Neither the REAP trailer nor the REAP Facility accept products. REAP is for redistribution of products only. HHW is accepted at two HHW facilities on select days in Tehama County. The HHW facilities are located in Red Bluff and Corning;

Corning HHW Facility
3281 Highway 99W
Corning, CA 96021

Red Bluff HHW Facility
19995 Plymire Rd.
Red Bluff, CA 96080

Please call 528-1103 or visit us on our events page at www.tehamacountylandfill.com for the next HHW Collection days.

3. How do I donate products to the program?

Household Hazardous Waste (HHW) is accepted at two HHW facilities on select days in Tehama County. Bring your donated products in between 8am-12pm for residents or 12-2:30pm for small business (by appointment) and a HHW Technician will review the products to determine if they are fit for reuse. The HHW facilities are located in Red Bluff and Corning:

Corning HHW Facility
3281 Highway 99W
Corning, CA 96021

Red Bluff HHW Facility
19995 Plymire Rd.
Red Bluff, CA 96080

Please call 528-1103 or visit us on our events page at www.tehamacountylandfill.com for the next HHW Collection day.

4. Where do I dispose of my household hazardous waste?
HHW is accepted at two HHW facilities on select days in Tehama County. Bring your waste between 8am-12pm for residents or 12-2:30pm for small business (by appointment). The HHW facilities are located in Red Bluff and Corning:

Corning HHW Facility | Red Bluff HHW Facility
3281 Highway 99W | 19995 Plymire Rd.
Corning, CA 96021 | Red Bluff, CA 96080

Please call 528-1103 or visit us on our events page at www.tehamacountylandfill.com for the next HHW Collection day.

5. I am a small business and have hazardous waste I would like to dispose of, how do I dispose of the waste?

There is a small hazardous waste disposal fee for small business generators in Tehama County. Businesses and government agencies must schedule an appointment by calling 528-1103. Please visit our current fee schedule for rates.

6. I need a large quantity of certain color paint, can you set the paint aside for me?

The REAP facility is a first come first serve program open M-F 9:00am - 4pm. The best time to check for large quantities of material is a few days following an HHW event. There is no guarantee for any one color of paint; inventory fluctuates allowing various material types to be accessible. Please check our event calendar for the next HHW waste collection day. Paint may be consolidated for community service projects on a case-by-case basis with advance notice, please call Kristina Miller, Agency Manager, for details at 528-1103 or email kmiller@co.tehama.ca.us.

7. Why isn’t the permanent facility open on the weekends or in the evenings?

Operating hours reflect the current availability of Agency staff.

8. Do you give out furniture, appliances, and other items disposed of at the landfill?

Although there are possibilities for expansion to include these items, the REAP facility and mobile unit is solely designed to assist the public in keeping hazardous waste out of landfills at this time. Tehama County/City of Red Bluff Landfill is not set up to redistribute furniture, appliances, and other items at this time. Perhaps you can consider a local thrift store to donate these materials to. Please call the local thrift store in advance to determine the acceptability of the item.
